Chris Shilling
University of Portsmouth

Session: 'Embodying Sociology: Enfleshing Theory, Methodology & Research.'

Embodying Sociology: Traditions, Pilgrimages and dialogue.

This paper provides an introduction to the series of sessions on Embodying Sociology by charting the huge rise of interest in the subject since the 1980s, by highlighting classical resources that have proved productive in rethinking 'body matters', and by proposing a theoretical strategy that has the capacity to bring into dialogue apparently incommensurate perspectives on the body/society relationship.